FRANK LITTELL, A GLENDALE SOLDIER BOY WRITES FROM FRANCE

The following letter from Corp. J. Frank Littell, now in France with the engineering corps, was written Nov. 9 and received by his mother, 1100 Dryden street, December 14.

Somewhere in France.

Dear Mother: I presume you think I am dead, but I am not. I am well and happy and looking forward to the day when I get back to California. Our trip to France from New York was a complete success. We fooled the submarines at their own game. Aside from this I cannot tell you anything else as everything is strictly censored, but I am keeping a diary and when I get home I will tell you things by the hour.

I wouldn't miss this trip for anything. We are the official globe trotting battalion of the U. S. Army. Think of traveling seven thousand miles in three months, an average of nearly a hundred miles a day.

Of course we are beginning to encounter a few hardships but then we will be all the better off for these. This is surely a quaint village where we are stationed. It must be 1000 or more years old. The houses are all built of stone with living rooms and barn together. Most of the soldiers are quartered in the barn section with the cows and chickens. This is called billeting. I had read of billeting while in the States, but had no idea then that I would get actual experience so soon. Some of the boys were put into families and have a fire place to sit by but they were very few. Douglas Balthis was one, but he was lucky.

They have the most quaint and picturesque canal running through this place and big old scows ply up and down just as moving pictures show them in old country places.

The populace of the town, mostly women and old men go on with their life just as they did before the war and probably just as their ancestors did way back in Caesar's time. The women do their washing at the public fountain on big stones. The sheep come out in the morning at the call of the old town herder's horn. The old town crier still beats his drum and gives out the latest news from the front. Eggs are selling for eight cents apiece, bread is very scarce, in fact the government controls it. Each family is daily given its share of brown bread. The loaves are baked in round circles like a doughnut. All of the populace live on nothing but bread and black coffee with a little bit of soup now and then. So you see what France is up against. She has fought four years and is weak. This is the reason why we got no mild enthusiasm when we landed, we must show something first. We opened up our new club room today and have been busy working all afternoon cleaning it up. We have two rooms in one of the best houses in the village. All the furnishings are quaint and artistic. There are two fire places in each room and it will certainly be an ideal place for the snowy days.

We can expect snow any time now for the weather is cold and chilly. We have had rain every day since we landed in France, too rainy for me to wash, so I got one of the old native women to do it for me. She charges eight cents for a shirt, 13c for underwear, 3c for socks.

Well we are going to have a meeting in our new club rooms so I must go and eat. We boys will have a mighty good set of holidays so don't worry. We may not get turkey, but duck will do. Send me whatever you wish that is sweet, candy and sweets are very very scarce and my sweet tooth is just as sweet as ever.

With love and Christmas greetings to all,

CORP. J. FRANK LITTELL,
Co. F, California Engineers,
117 Regt. 42d Division.

NEW CHAIRMEN APPOINTED

At the recent meeting of the Board of Directors of the Congress of Mothers in the Security Building headquarters in Los Angeles, the appointment of the following chairmen was announced by the president, Dr. Jessie Russell:

War Service, Mrs. J. A. Rominger, of Long Beach;

Juvenile Court and Probation, Mrs. Stephen Packer, Glendale.

Plans were outlined for the next state convention which will be held in Bakersfield in May.

AFTERNOON TEA

The British Ambulance Society served afternoon tea yesterday at the Ginger Tavern on Broadway. It is a charming place for a function of that sort and should attract much larger patronage than usually comes out to these teas which are held regularly by the society.

THE FLAG AND ITS POLE

OLD GLORY, RED CROSS FLAG AND CITY SERVICE FLAG TO BE DEDICATED

On Thursday afternoon, December 20 at 2:30 Glendale's new municipal flag pole will be dedicated and officially handed over to the city. The steel pole is now in Blendale (in the store at 1103 West Broadway) and will be put in position within the next few hours.

It is due largely to the enthusiastic interest of Dr. Henry R. Harrower, that this pole and the flags which will fly from it have been secured; and he has informed this office of the present status of his work so that the people of Glendale may know what has been done and what is in store.

A splendid patriotic program has been arranged which will commence at 2:30 sharp on Thursday next. Every patriotic citizen and especially every boy and girl is invited to be present at the corner of Brand and Broadway. A platform will be built around the new pole and from it several inspiring short talks will be given. The program will appear elsewhere in this issue, and it is anticipated that the flag raising will be a ceremony worth coming far to see.

The money for this pole has been raised by popular subscription under Dr. Harrower's direction. The most important donation by far is the one from the school children, for practically ever school child in the city has given at least one cent. Then the clubs, lodges and social organizations have responded patriotically and their combined donations have been supplemented by many citizens not merely of Glendale, but of Casa Verdugo and Tropico, for it happens that the largest single donations have come from our neighbors to the north and south. A complete list of these donations will be on file at this office and to save space only, the names of those contributing a dollar or more will be published in these columns shortly.

The time is opportune for this patriotic meeting for this is Red Cross Week and it is planned to make the program fire the hearts of those enjoying it so that they may be prompted to do their best to assist in the drive for still more new members and still greater service for our boys across the seas.

It is understood that not only will the large flag generously donated to the city by Miss Gracia Mosier be raised on Thursday, but that a large Red Cross flag and a Service Flag of equal size (8 feet by 12 feet) will be raised simultaneously. It appears that this white pole with its large gold ball over 70 feet above the ground, and the three great flags hanging thereon will be an attractive and really valuable addition to our municipal property, and a perpetual reminder of our allegiance to our country, our army and navy and to our noble Red Cross work.

W. R. C. ELECTS OFFICERS

The annual election of officers of the Woman's Relief Corps took place at the meeting held last Friday afternoon in G. A. R. Hall. Mrs. Louise Purnell was elected president and also re-elected as trustee. Other officers elected were:

Senior Vice President, Mary Milligan;

Junior Vice President, Margaret Hibbert;

Chaplain, Annie Burns;

Treasurer, Winona Crawford;

Secretary, Mayme Pollock;

Conductor, Alma Dutton;

Guard, Pearl Gillette.

The color bearers and other minor officers will be appointed by the president. The installation of officers will take place January 11th.

The purpose of this organization is to look after the comfort and welfare of the veterans of the G. A. R., their widows and children. The ranks of these veterans are thinning fast and in a few years there will be none left to tell us of the great battles of the civil war or of the conditions under which they were fought, with that precious, intimate note of the participant. For this reason it is not strange to see these devoted women, or to see the Sons of Veterans striving to honor and minister to the comfort of these old soldiers.

FINE NEW BOY

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Roy Dickerson are the pleased parents of a lusty boy of 9¼ pounds weight who was born Sunday morning. It is their second son. Mother and child are doing finely. Mr. Dickerson is superintendent of Tropico public schools.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Wednesday. Westerly winds.

SENATE CONCURS IN "DRY" AMENDMENT

ACTION OF CONGRESS TRANSFERS LIQUOR FIGHT TO THE TWENTY-ONE "WET" STATES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, December 18.—The Senate concurred this morning with the House amendment on National Prohibition. A rising vote was taken, 47 Senators voting for the House amendment and 8 against it.

This action of the Senate transfers the fight to the State legislatures. Three-fourths of the states must ratify the amendment before it can be made a part of the constitution. One year after such approval by the states the manufacture, sale and transportation of intoxicating liquor within, or the importation into or exportation from, the United States and all territories subject to its jurisdiction, for beverage purposes will be prohibited.

The "drys" have already laid plans for fights in Ohio, Missouri, Massachusetts and Kentucky, all "wet" states but having vast stretches of "dry" territory.

Some fighting developed in the Senate as to whether or not Congress has the right to place a seven-year limitation for state ratification. There are indications that an early decision of the Supreme Court on this question is desired.

California, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Illinois, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Nevada, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Texas, Vermont, Wisconsin, and Wyoming are the "wet" states which are now the targets of final prohibition.

WASHINGTON, December 18.—The Senate this afternoon adopted a resolution providing for the investigation of the shipping situation in the United States, the investigation to begin at once. Senator Cummins shortly after this introduced a resolution for the investigation of the railroad problem. The investigation was ordered by the passage of Cummins' resolution.

THE LAW BREAKERS

CHIEF HERALD GIVES THE RECORD OF OFFENDERS AGAINST THE PUBLIC AND SECURITY

Chief of Police Herald reports that the spirit of conservation has penetrated even unto the more adventurous classes of citizens who lead what might be termed Bohemian lives. Now that the holiday season is at hand they are beginning to conserve chickens from any roosts which happen to be accessible. Some times the situation is quite complicated as in one case where an officer was summoned to arrest a boy found in a chicken yard with a dead hen. The story he told in defense was that the man who sought his arrest was the owner of a dog which was a chicken butcher; that the dog had been visiting the boy's roost and carrying off hens until the boy in desperation followed the dog home to recover the prey, even though it were dead. Mr. Herald doesn't aspire to be a Sherlock Holmes in the unravelling of mysteries, and so persuaded the parties to the controversy to settle their difficulties out of court.

Paid the Price

Two Mexicans were arrested yesterday at the corner of First and Brand for being in a state of intoxication. Booze from the winery on San Fernando Road was responsible. They were locked up and given a hearing Monday before the Recorder who fined them $10 each.

Too Swift

One of the autoists who got into trouble Sunday from speeding was a woman driver, Mrs. Frank A. Cummings. She attempted to make the turn at Colorado and Central while going at the rate of about thirty miles an hour in a Buick roadster. She lost control of her car, ran over the curb and down the sidewalk for about half a block where her machine collided with a tree. The police were sent for and succeeded in getting her back into the highway and started for home under her own power. Was she arrested for speeding? No. So far as the officers knew it was her first offense, and they could not prove how fast she was going anyway. So they lectured her on the evils and dangers of reckless driving and allowed her to depart in peace. There were no damages except a few dents on the auto and some abrasions on the bark of the tree which Chief Herald believes the City Forester will be able to heal.

BIRTHDAY OBSERVANCE

A happy company of twenty-five little friends gathered at the home of Miss Geraldine Meagher, of Tenth street, on Saturday afternoon to help make the eleventh birthday of this dear litle girl one long to be remembered. The home was beautifully adorned in the Christmas colors for the occasion. The dining room where a large table was spread with dainties for the guests was a bower of Christmas illuminations. The Christmas tree was heavily laden with beautiful gifts from Geraldine's loving little friends.

BROTHERHOOD MEETING

At a meeting of the Brotherhood class of the Christian church at the home of W. J. Stone, 341 N. Brand, last evening, officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows:

J. H. Orth, president;
A. B. Heacock, vice presient;
R. C. Udell, secretary;
J. G. Umbaugh, assistant secretary
W. J. Stone, treasurer.

During the evening the following resolution was offered and passed unanimously: Resolved, that this class present its felicitations to Bro. S. L. Borthick, one of its members, on attaining this day his 80th birthday; be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution be presented to him and that the same be published in the Glendale Evening News.

FOOD CONSERVATION

The local unit of the County Council of Defense, of which Mrs. A. A. Barton, of North Howard street, is chairman, is concentrating, so far as its special line of endeavor is concerned, on the talks which are being given by Mrs. Hazzard, who is to lecture tomorrow at the City Hall from 10 to 12 a. m. on Christmas dishes. These will have special reference to the saving of sugar and will show in practical ways how it can be done. It is a great opportunity for the women of Glendale and Tropico. The hall is large enough to accommodate a big audience and it is hoped that women generally will take advantage of the chance to see and hear the practical expert who can help them in the solving of food problems.

STREET NUMBERING

J. F. LILLY FAVORS SYSTEM USED SUCCESSFULLY IN CITY OF PASADENA

Editor News:

The subject of how to number the streets has not been exhausted yet, but perhaps we cannot say so much of the patience of your readers.

I do not favor Engineer Lynch's method of street numbering because it would necessitate starting our numbers over in Griffith Park in order to be far enough West so that all Glendale territory, present and prospective, will lie East of the proposed starting point. Some of these times we are going to take in the North Glendale section, which reaches farther west than Mr. Brand's place. Our westerly limit will then be as far west at Griffith Park.

I think Mr. Lynch is also wrong in his proposal that we have only two numbers to each 50 foot lot. Many of our 50 foot business lots already contain three stores and some contain four. This necessitates giving one or more of the stores a "half number," which looks cheap. On more than one occasion I have refused to rent an office because it had a fractional number.

I favor the so-called "Philadelphia System", mentioned by Mr. Kinnan in yesterday's News, insofar as it provides for a central starting point, but I would modify the system so as to overcome the irregular size of our blocks by introducing a method very successfully used elsewhere. Instead of trying to give each block a hundred numbers, let each 50 feet have eight numbers, four odd numbers on one side of the street and four even numbers on the other side. Beginning with No. 1, at the central starting point, let us continue as far as numbering may be required, using odd numbers on the north and west sides of the street and even numbers on the south and east sides. By this system each unit of any number will represent a distance of 6¼ feet from the agreed starting point.

Assuming that the corner of Colorado street and Brand boulevard is the agreed center (by the way, not a bad place to begin), the system would work as follows:

The Studebaker Garage would be No. 1 North Brand, and the Overland Garage across the street, taking the nearest even number, would be No. 2, while the Buick Garage, being 100 feet from the starting point would be No. 17. The Masonic Temple, which is say 200 feet from the starting point, will be No. 32. Chaffee's store, 1130 feet from the starting point will be No. 180, and so on as far north as you wish. East and west streets would be similarly numbered from an agreed starting point. By this system each 625 feet will represent 100 numbers, regardless of the size of the block. No. 100 in any direction is always 625 feet from the starting point. 200 is 1250, 300 is 1875 feet, etc. To find the correct number that any property should have, just measure its exact distance from the agreed center, and divide that distance by 6¼, you will know just how far it is from the numbering center. Apartment houses, flats and businesses occupying narrow rooms will not have to use fractional numbers; and by the way, as our city becomes more populous and rents increase, we shall have many more such apartments and small business occupations.

The numbers on one street will correspond exactly with the numbers on any parallel street. This system fits both large and small sized blocks. It is logical, accurate and devoid of confusion, once you know the plan. Pasadena has used this system for a long time, and it works perfectly.

COULDN'T STAY AWAY

Yesterday afternoon J. Morgan Fife, of Pittsburg, together with his wife and family completed the overland journey and arrived in Los Angeles. They didn't stay there however, but instead took the first electric car for Glendale and without losing any time rented a house and settled themselves in comfort to await the arrival of their household goods, for it is on the way and they intend to make Glendale their permanent home. They came once before in 1912 and spent a year and a half here, returning to Pennsylvania in 1914. When the reporter encountered them their faces were beaming with joy at their return and all were ready to announce that they had come to stay. They have taken a house at 508 South Orange. J. V. Gilfillan, of Pittsburg, brother of Mrs. Fife, is with them and will spend the winter here. After showing him some of the sights of the Golden State Mr. Fife will look around for a business opening.

TOWARDS DEMOCRACY CLUB

J. W. Durham was the leader at this club last Sunday morning and read the following paper to open the subject of the day for discussion:

"PROGRESS OF NATIONS TOWARD DEMOCRACY

"Although from the Chaldean nation came Nimrod, the first of Biblical history to hold dominion over his fellow men, it is significant that it was from this country that Jehovah called Abraham to leave his kindred and country and go into a strange land to found a nation the most democratic in some respects of any that has ever existed, and whose laws have never been surpassed by any power on earth. From the nation thus founded came Jesus of Nazareth the most democratic person in both teaching and practice, the world has ever seen. To touch briefly the progress toward democracy of some of the modern nations, I will begin with England in 1066 when the Normans conquered the country and took all the land of England as a military tribute and their leader, William the Conqueror took the title to all the land. One by one, the ancient rights of the English people were taken away from them till the uprising of the Barons under Stephen Langton compelled King John to acknowledge the ancient rights of the people in a charter called 'Magna Charta' Henceforth King John and all his successors swear at their coronation to rule according to the law of the land. But it needed Simon De Montfort to beat into line the kings inclined to ignore their promises and he at the head of armed forces summoned, according to ancient custom of the people to choose their 'wise men,' representatives of the people and gave them the name of 'Parliament' the 'talking body.' The 500-year struggle between these representatives, the 'House of Commons' and the king and 'House of Lords' resulted in steady gain for the people, till in 1628 the House of Commons wrung from the king a second charter of liberty: The 'Petition of Rights' by which the king gave up all claim to the right to levy taxes. He could no longer imprison a subject at will nor quarter soldiers in any house without consent of the owner. Charles the First tried disregarding this law. War followed, the king was made prisoner, tried by jury and executed.

"Instances of imprisonment of persons by the king's warrant without a 'legal judgment of a jury by his peers' guaranteed by Magna Charta to every man, caused Parliament, in 1679, to remedy this evil by passing the Habeas Corpus act which is now a law in all our states and is the most famous security of personal liberty known to our laws.

"James the II was the next king to try breaking the laws of the land. The people declared the throne vacant and invited William, Prince of Orange, to take the crown and obey the people's Charters. Parliament drew up a third statement of the principle rights in the famous Bill of Rights of 1688.

"But with all this progress, note the rights that were denied Englishmen by this bill: Freedom of worship, of education, of participation in government by ballot, freedom to choose a trade or occupation, to work without industrial restrictions, freedom to own land, to travel where he pleased, and freedom to publish their opinions.

"But England is steadily marching toward political democracy and some of her colonies, Australia and New Zealand in particular, are perhaps nearer to democracy of any people on earth. But though the English have made steady progress toward democracy politically, in an economic sense the trend seems to be in an opposite direction. A system of taxing heavily land used for agriculture and its products and taxing very lightly or not at all parks and game preserves owned by the rich has driven many small holders to part with their land and farmers of England are again becoming a tenant class.

"Next to consider France. Not touching the nine centuries' struggle for liberty I will begin with the reign of Louis XIV when the rights to choose magistrates, mayors, sheriffs and all ordinary officers was taken from the people and literally sold by the king for his own personal advantage. The king could also make war at pleasure, pass laws, impose taxes and crush the people by granting concessions to whom he would. He wrote in his memoirs: 'Kings are absolute masters and as such have a right to dispose of everything belonging to their subjects.'

"In 1790 the 20,521,000 food producers on lands owned by the king, the nobles and the clergy eked out a meager subsistence for themselves. The maxim 'No land without a Lord' was a reality. To the nobles belonged the fields, rivers and mountains. The people were slaves, they were hitched to plows like beasts.

"These oppressions brought revolt which assumed proportions of the great revolution and the grand reformation in the time of Louis XVI when royalty was dethroned, executed and the lands of the king, clergy and nobility were divided up and sold to the common people, who still retain ownership, and France is today a country of land owners, farmers who cultivate their own soil.

"The thing that impresses me most in the progress of the nations toward democracy is that the question of access to the lands is vital to every attempt to restore human liberty. Only as men get access to land are they really free. And only as the land is monopolized by a few individuals do the people become serfs and slaves.

"In our own country, on the authority of David Lubin, the California grain dealer who investigated the mystery of price setting from city to city clear over to Europe and compiled valuable data, between the years 1900 and 1910 the amount of land cultivated by tenant farmers increased 16 per cent and at the latter date 40 per cent of all land cultivated in the United States was cultivated by tenants. Thus in an economic sense we are drifting away from democracy. And since 'eternal vigilance is the price of liberty' it behooves us to stop in some way the present trend toward monopolization of the land by a small per cent of the people."

Mrs. Hoffman said that the French owning their own lands probably gave the soldiers added spirit and patriotism in the war to defend their country.

Mr. Hoffman said the conditions of separate land ownership in France is restricted by such high taxation on improvements and all products. While having the title to his lands the French by the present crushing tendency of the market system. He believed that the English are more jealous of their liberties among themselves than French and so far tend to be more democratic.

Mrs. Salyer thought the English were better working in collectivity than the French who were perhaps too strongly individualistic to excel in taking over public utilities as England has done.

Mr. Wright said the land tenure question in this country was tremendously important in relation to trusts like the Standard Oil. But was inclined to think that it brought the minimum of cost as compared to competition prices in early days of the use of kerosene. Mrs. Robinson said that no free competition of small voluntary cooperation had been tried before all had fallen into the one trust. Mrs. Salyer called attention to the freezing out of small cooperations by the Standard Oil, she would hear no good of it. Mr. Wright and Mr. Robbins gave cases under their personal knowledge of such crushing out of competitors.

Mr. Salyer gave figures to prove that gasoline could be furnished at from four to seven cents a gallon.

Mrs. Wright brought back the discussion to the democracy of New Zealand and Australia where she had been told there are no rich and no poor.

FORTUNATE AT BAZAAR

Considerable money was realized at the Tropico Red Cross bazaar from the sale of various attractive articles for which patrons were willing to bid liberally. One of these was a handsome luncheon set which was secured by Mrs. Robinas, of Labree Court.

A beautifully embroidered towel which was the special prize at the candy booth went to Mrs. Louis Baker of Brand Boulevard.

Specially coveted in some quarters was a woolen patchwork quilt in an old fashioned, criss-cross pattern which was very attractive. Mrs. D. O. Martin was lucky enough to secure that.

To Emma Moniet went a very handsome crocheted collar.

MESSAGE TO WOMEN

No woman of Glendale or Tropico should miss the message which Henry Christeen Warnack, poet and dramatist, will give them at the Woman's Day meeting to be held tomorrow at the Masonic Temple at 2:30. It will be on "Women's Work in the War," a topic of absorbing interest to every thoughtful woman who feels the need of inspiration and enlargement of vision. Mr. Warnack is a brilliant speaker and writer.

There will also be a fine musical program to which Mrs. Ina Ryder and Miss Eleanor Coburn, of Los Angeles, vocalists of note will contribute, and in which Mrs. H. R. Boyer of Glendale, will give an instrumental number of special interest.

COUNTY COUNCIL OF DEFENSE

The local unit of the County Council of Defense of which Mrs. A. A. Barton, of North Howard street, is chairman, is co-operating in the Red Cross drive this week and not especially pushing its particular work, according to Dr. Jessie Russell, who states that immediately after the holidays there will be a meeting of all the County Chairmen to arrange for the work of the new year.

Personals

Miss Grace L. Brown, of San Francisco, was the guest of Glendale friends last Thursday.

A. J. Enoch, the signal man of the S. P. at Tropico, has gone north to San Francisco to visit his son.

Julius Kranz, instructor on the violin, has moved his studio from North Brand to 1311 W. Ninth street.

Mrs. W. W. McElroy has been ill of grippe since Friday at her home at 411½ South Brand boulevard.

Ben F. Bolen, 1469 Myrtle, was taken quite ill Saturday evening and has since been confined to his bed, with la grippe.

Mrs. T. A. Proctor, of Ventura, was a house guest last week of C. W. Burket and wife, 704 West Fifth street.

A. J. Dible, father of Charles Dible and of Mrs. Albert Gabaig, has come up from Phoenix, Arizona, to spend the holidays with them in Tropico.

Mrs. T. L. Wiggins, of Tehachapi, is the guest of her uncle, J. M. Banker, 231 Cedar. Mrs. Wiggins was formerly Miss Lavina Banker.

Harold Russell, of 343 North Maryland avenue, was the week end guest of Guy Richards of Hollywood, formerly of 525 S. Orange, Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Wisdom, of San Diego, and daughter, were Sunday guests of Dr. Jessie Russell, having motored up from the Southern city.

Joe Griffin, of Acacia avenue, who has been home for about two weeks with a severe case of tonsilitis, was well enough Monday to go to Los Angeles.

F. McIntosh, of Los Angeles, was a caller yesterday to order the Evening News, as he expects to locate in Glendale if he can find suitable apartments.

Dr. J. H. Daugherty and wife, formerly of 505 S. Central avenue, but now living on a ranch between Tustin and Santa Ana, are visiting relatives in this city.

L. W. Rakestraw, who has been in Los Angeles on business and who has been visiting his aunt, Miss Metzger in this city, has returned to his home in Toledo, Ohio.

Miss Rebecca Gregg, 206 S. Central avenue, Miss Marjorie Imler, 310 W. Park avenue, and Miss Katherine Renshaw, 1462 Lomita, are home from Berkeley for the holidays.

J. W. Dalrymple of Central and Acacia, is exceedingly ill. Heart trouble has developed in connection with pneumonia and at this writing his condition is considered quite critical.

Mrs. L. L. Cushing and family have moved from Glendale avenue to 501 Labree Court into a more convenient house which they own there. The house they left is to be renovated and gotten ready to rent.

Jesse's on the job, as can be seen in the Evening News ad columns. He has the machines, his prices are right and gets there every time. So when you need anything in the passenger or baggage line, you'll call up Jesse's Express.

Members of the Mothers' Club of the Acacia Street school met last Friday but did not attempt to transact any business or provide a regular program. Instead they had a social good time with the children to whom they gave a popcorn ball treat.

Miss Alice Frank who was painfully injured about six weeks ago while working with the Metro Film company at Universal City, has almost recovered and is able to be out again to the delight of her many friends. Miss Frank had the misfortune to be pushed from a ledge in a trench scene and had her shoulder dislocated.

G. A. Woodburn and wife who recently moved to Glendale from Los Angeles, locating at 1315 Milford, are so charmed with our beautiful city that they hope to spend the rest of their days here. They came from Great Bend, Kansas, where they own two large farms and some city property, two years ago and located on Sixty-fourth street, Los Angeles. Owing to the prevalence of fogs both suffered from rheumatism almost continuously, but since coming to Glendale, both have entirely recovered.

It was Job who exclaimed, "Oh that mine enemy would write a book." Maybe if this patient man of old could have read some of the present good fiction he would not have been so sweeping in his statements, for good books are certainly a pleasure. And the Glendale Book Store is headquarters for such, as well as a full line of Davis' Christmas cards, and many other things suitable for Christmas gifts, as will be seen in its ad. Accommodating clerks make buying easy.

SLOW TO REGISTER

EXEMPTION BOARD REPORTS REGISTRANTS SLOW TO RETURN QUESTIONNAIRE

Officials at the headquarters of the Exemption Board are disappointed because registrants are coming in so slowly. Three presented themselves yesterday afternoon and but one this morning. But seven days are allowed from the time the Questionnaire is mailed until the registrant appears before the Board and unless responses are more prompt, there will be congestion of applicants at the last who will not be able to secure the individual attention that they would get by coming earlier in the registration period, as the number of officials appointed to help the registrants in filling out their documents is necessarily limited.

The office is open daily from 8 to 12 a. m. from 1 to 5 p. m. and from 7 to 9 in the evening, also from 9 to 12 on Sundays, for the benefit of men employed.

Among the registrants are men who have been discharged by exemption boards or at the camps. These will be listed in the non-combative class and will be subject to call for such duties as driving automobiles, clerical work, etc.

AN EVENING AT LEE HOME

The home of Mrs. Ed M. Lee, 103 Belmont, was on Saturday evening, the scene of a general jollification party, held by the A 11 class of the G. U. H. S.

At 8 o'clock nearly all had assembled and the fun began. Miss Lois Murphy, as chairman of the entertainment committee was indefatigable in her efforts to keep the ball rolling merrily. One game followed another in quick succession. The climax was reached when, after a good deal of excited whispering, several boys and girls went into the next room, whence they emerged by another door as a wedding procession. A clever mock wedding was staged, the Rev. Fred Weaver officiating, binding the bride to bake delicious biscuits and the groom to obey his wife.

Then a delicious refection of ice cream, wafers and Hooverized candy was partaken of. Miss Emma Patterson, chairman of the refreshment committee, showed an amazing facility in serving swiftly and deftly. Decorations were of holly and violets, the latter being worn as boutonnieres by the guests. All enjoyed themselves immensely and departed for home at a late hour. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Ed. M. Lee, Miss Enid Fenton, teacher of the class, Misses Winnie Begg, Hattie Beckman, Helen Begg, Frances Bartlett, Lois Murphy, Emma Patterson, Sybil Jamgochian and Lois Percy and Masters Wilbur and Kenneth Lee, Fred Weaver and Donald Weiman.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO REGISTRANTS

Under jurisdiction of Local Exemption Board District No. 7, whose order numbers are between No. 210 and No. 317, inclusive:

There has this day been mailed to you a questionnaire which you are required by law to execute and return within seven days from date hereof.

Failure to do so constitutes a misdemeanor punishable by not to exceed one year's imprisonment; and such failure may also deprive you of valuable rights and result in your immediate induction into military service and trial by court-martial.

Dated, December 18, 1917.

F. D. LANTERMAN,
Member of Local Board.

AN OLD RESIDENT

W. C. Stone, who passed away last Wednesday, came to California over 35 years ago and was for a time connected with the Glenwood Mission Inn at Riverside, then under the management of his old friend, Frank Miller. Mr. Stone was a wonderful musician and played the first pipe organ in Los Angeles. He owned a ranch on the high bluff overlooking Laguna Beach, where as he put it he could eat his green corn and throw the ears into the ocean. When he left Riverside he went into the theatrical costuming business in Los Angeles. This he sold eight years ago and has since lived quietly at his home in Glendale, 808 Lomita avenue, making only occasional visits to the ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy De Gaston, who are now living at 608 North Central avenue, Tropico, have been enjoying the pleasure of entertaining an old friend, Mrs. Linnie Hobson of Joplin, Missouri, who stopped to see them while en route to Porterville and San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius D. Fink, of Lodi, California, motored down here to visit their cousin, Jacob Fink, of 218 S. Maryland. They went down to San Diego and Camp Kearny and are now on their way home via. the Coast route. Mr. Fink is very much impressed with the good roads and beauty of Southern California.

HOME WEDDING

Last evening about sixty intimate friends and relatives gathered at the bride's home, 344 Orange street, to see Miss Addie Midcalf wedded to Mr. Fred O. Haskell, of Los Angeles. The Rev. Mr. Crandell, pastor of the West Glendale M. E. Church, performed the ceremony using the beautiful ring service of the Methodist Episcopal church.

The bridal gown was a combination of white Dutchess satin and Georgette crepe. The bride carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and hyacinths. She was attended by Miss Rosa Peck, and during the evening was assisted by four girls of the younger set, the Misses Ruth Spafford, Tessa Bott, Helen Gould and Irene Jones. The great number of costly and beautiful gifts was a proof of the high esteem and love of the bride's friends.

Promptly at eight o'clock the processional was played by Miss Gertrude Champlain, followed by "Oh Promise Me," beautifully sung by Miss Sara Hommer. To the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, played by Miss Champlain, the bride and groom descended the stairs, passing through the dining room to the living room where amid a bower of palms and ferns, they plighted their troth.

After January 1st they will be at home at 4318 Mosher avenue, Los Angeles.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Midcalf and little daughter Rosalie, of Hollywood; Walter Midcalf, of Los Angeles; Mrs. C. M. Viall, of San Bernardino; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Page and Master Gerald Page, of St. Paul, Minnesota, and the following from Los Angeles: Miss Alice Viall, Mrs. Jas. E. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Simpson, the Misses Mary and Maxine Simpson, Master George Simpson, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Cory, F. E. Chamberlain, Dr. and Mrs. T. Chamberlain, Mrs. Alice E. Plattner, Mr. Ralph E. Hiester, Mr. and Mrs. Elrod and little daughter.

TIME FOR GLENDALIANS TO AWAKEN

Can there be any slackers in Glendale? The general public might answer emphatically "no" after having heard so much about the Red Cross, the war relief workers, the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. contributions, the untiring food conservationists and the work of the faithful ones who have made Glendale the banner city of her size in all war relief work.

Hundreds of our men are serving the nation in this great crisis. Yet in the piercing light of actuality it must be recorded that the impression prevalent is erroneous as it refers to those who are not cultivating their vacant lots. Last spring a wave of patriotism swept over Glendale and all became aroused.

Let us not fail to realize the seriousness of the times in which we are living and the real need of producing food. We are all consumers. Why not be producers? No city has so cheap water as Glendale. From the abundance of weeds which grow we know we can produce if we plant and cherish.

Many are going along in their old-time paths. Indeed none of us have yet begun to make any real sacrifices, we have not given up our vanities, frivolities, extravagances and wastefulness.

We may deprive ourselves of many luxuries to help save for our soldiers who have made the supreme sacrifice of offering their lives for their country but if we fail to take up the shovel and the hoe providing we have the time and the soil we are not patriotic.

There will be a mass meeting of the Back to the Soil Patriots next Saturday evening at 1017 Broadway between Maryland and Louise.

Help Glendale be the banner city for home products. Help her feed her own people. Help her free the labor, time, freight and products which we would use, and let them go to our own boys in the service.

ELLA W. RICHARDSON,
Curator of Civics of the Tuesday Afternoon Club.

To Our Customers:

In response to an appeal made by Mr. Chas. W. Merrill of the United States Food Administration, requesting that we conserve man power, fuel, feed, and any unnecessary cost of operation in the manufacture and distribution of ice, the of Glendale, in order to meet our government's requirements, as nearly as possible, and at the same time being mindful of our patrons' interests, has decided to put its business on a Cash basis, thereby eliminating office and collection expenses.

To do our "Bit" along these lines we need the individual co-operation of our customers, which we herewith earnestly solicit, at the same time thanking them for their patronage during the ten years we have been in business here.

This proposed change in our system will be effective on and after January 1, 1918.

In the meantime our solicitors will call and explain the merits of our Coupon Book system for those who do not wish to pay cash on each delivery of ice.

WHAT NEW THOUGHT REALLY MEANS

Mrs. Adeline Becker, of Los Angeles, spoke last Sunday night at the Masonic Temple on the above subject. This was a splendid lecture right from the shoulder and to the point.

"I have been asked many, many time 'Just what does New Thought really mean?" it is like being asked, 'What is political economy?' for it takes more than a sentence to explain.

"New Thought is Christ's teaching made practical and we try to live it. We believe actually in prayer. 'Well', you say, 'that isn't new while the Christian Scientists claim that New Thought it all taken from Christian Science. There is nothing good that orthodoxy ever taught that we do not take and retain. We believe in the Fatherhood of God and in prayer. But we are taught the method of prayer, the method of attaining and obtaining that for which we pray.

"Much in New Thought is in orthodoxy, much more is like Christian Science, but still there is a decided difference. It is not merely a new application of old teachings. New Thought teaches that the kingdom of heaven is within and can be brought out by self-development.

"Much that we believe in is not new. The Unitarians have long taught that God is Principle while Universalism teaches that all will be saved.

"If you understand New Thought, you can bring forth the evidence of prayers answered, you can demonstrate. If you are devoting your religious hours to study, to looking into truth with a view to understanding, you are on the road to advanced thought.

"We believe with the Christian Scientists that through scientific prayer man makes union with God. And when that is reached healing follows. We read the Bible, Theosophy, Science and Health; we are not restricted in anything we study. All true New Thought students study the Bible and we put into practice what we learn every minute of the day.

"Christian Science and New Thought came from exactly the same source. Quimby, a deep student, a physician and a lover of God and man came across a book written by a Frenchman who understood the spirituality of Christ's teachings and methods of practicing them. He formed a class for study and Mrs. Eddy was one of this class. Mrs. Eddy was most spiritually minded, founded the Christian Science movement and wrote Science and Health. She is worthy of the respect of New Thought people as well as her own followers.

"But Mrs. Eddy forbid her students reading anything but that which came from her own pen, while those others in this class to which she belonged not caring to be restricted grew broader and broader and just when the term New Thought originated I do not know. Another term I like better is the New Civilization or Practical Christianity but what's in a name? All roads lead to Rome.

"I believe New Thought is only a beginning of a wonderful spiritual power which is coming to the human race.

"If you are not trying to understand and practice New Thought, why bother with it? But if you live New Thought you are trying to express that wonderful One within. You know that thoughts are things and that what you send out will return to you. so be careful how you think.

"Study and find out where you belong what you are and be that before God."

In the daily routine of life you ask of those with whom you come in contact both honesty and fairness of treatment.

More so, than ever, do you need such help during the sorrows of bereavement. Then, as at no other time, you ask and have a right to expect conscientious service—the kind "you" yourself would give were you able to do so.

You ask and expect an impressive service, free of needless expense, yet fitting the occasion.

In using Scovern-Letton-Frey Co. service either in our mortuary, at the church or in your own home, you will find all these requirements met—quietly, restfully and in good taste.

MANY HOMELESS FOREIGNERS

Startling statistics have recently appeared in the papers. The statement has been made that there are in the United States 4,000,000 men of military age, who have lived here more than five years without taking out their first papers for citizenship. Aliens have been considered unpatriotic and doubtless many are in that they prefer to enjoy the advantages of American institutions without assuming the responsibilities of American citizenship.

All who live under the protection of the American Flag should share the responsibility as well as the benefits it bestows. Those who are here merely to make money and to evade military duty or taxes in their own land, should be required to make a choice of citizenship. There are too many men without a country in America.

"Do you remember the story of David and Goliath?"

"Yes. But I don't encourage my boys to read it. I have trouble enough now to keep them from throwing stones."

Mr. Easterly—The hanging gardens of Babylon must have been a wonderful sight.

Woolsey West—Yes; I've heard of 'em. And I've often wondered why they provided such elaborate accommodations for lynching parties.
